Watts Is Held on Charge of Foster's Death

Fernalia Watts is under arrest awaiting investigation of the grand jury on the charge of negligence homicide. Watts was the driver of the car which collided with the car driven by Paul E. Foster of Hereford near Umbarger, causing the death of Mr. Foster and badly injuring Mrs. Foster.

Raymond Holmes, a soldier from the Roswell Army Air Field, had ridden from Amarillo with Watts to Umbarger. Holmes tried to get out of the car at Canyon, and finally induced Watts to stop at Umbarger. Watts is reported to have turned around and started back to Amarillo. When Holmes caught a ride west, he was told by the driver of the accident. He immediately returned to the scene of the accident and told officers his experience with Watts, whom he charged with drinking.

Watts was arrested after the accident, and a guard is maintained over him at the Neblett Hospital where he is under treatment.

The grand jury heard officers Monday, and met again Wednesday afternoon to hear Holmes, who came from Roswell to testify.

Library Board Seeking Funds

As the result of a unique plan to increase finances for the Randall County Public Library, Mrs. S. B. Louder, president of the board, stated this week that donations were being received which are rapidly increasing the funds.

Mrs. Louder emphasized that it was the desire of the board to give the readers of this county as wide and varied selection of books as possible, and that the project of raising funds would be continued.

Thompson Hardware Company Has Continuous Advertising Record

T. C. THOMPSON

In a recent edition of the National Publisher, official publication of the nation's weekly newspaper, an article was published regarding a Montana firm which had carried continuous advertising for 1,160 weeks.

On July 1, 1908, T. C. Thompson opened the Thompson Hardware Company in Canyon. From the opening date of this store there has never been an issue of The Canyon News which did not carry advertising from the Thompson Hardware Company. This span of years constitutes 2,020 weeks. The firm has never relied on small ads, but use liberal space, with a liberal amount of cuts. Mr. Thompson holds to the theory that a picture carries a message when words fail. Even back in that early days, when illustrations were not plentiful, Thompson Hardware Company always presented its message with illustrations as well as a liberal use of description.

Mr. Thompson is past president of the Texas Hardware Association as well as the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association.

In recent years Mr. Thompson has relinquished much of the active management of the business to his son, C. L. Thompson. Clarence was secretary of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association for 26 years and was succeeded in this position by his wife, who had the distinction of being the second woman secretary of a hardware association in the nation.

Advertising in The Canyon News has always been the firm policy of the firm, which has grown throughout the years into one of the largest and best known stores in the Southwest.

Needs of Canyon Discussed Tuesday Roundtable Talks

Ray Campbell was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday, opening up a roundtable discussion of the needs of Canyon.

The three phase program of the Chamber of Commerce was the main point of discussion. Delbert Lowes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, explained the proposed bond issues which would take care of the farm-to-market roads, the community buildings in Canyon and South Amarillo, and the airport.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

The vast increase in dollar income of individuals which occurred during and after the war has been inequitably distributed. It has been greatest in the field of factory and cases, it has outrun the increase in the cost of living. These latter groups, far from sharing in the "prosperity" of the present, are much worse off than in 1940.

The best example of this, of course, is the school teachers. Their plight is symbolic of that of millions of people, working in highly responsible jobs, whose standard of living has taken a terrific beating in late years.

The recent teachers' strike in Buffalo simply dramatized a situation which is nation-wide in scope. Since 1940, according to the United States News, the average annual earnings of factory workers has risen from $1,314 to $2,440. In the same period, on the other hand, it must be remembered, includes larger cities where teachers are paid relatively well. In some rural sections teachers of one-room schools get as little as $800 a year. Almost everywhere, teachers receive less than garbage collectors, janitors and other city employees who work at menial tasks requiring little education.

Furthermore, teachers must live up to their position in the community, which means that they must have homes in good residential areas, dress well, contribute to charity, etc. Many teachers have been forced to take night jobs to make both ends meet—which inevitably involves a decline in their efficiency as instructors. In one widely publicized case, a male teacher worked at night as a bartender in a tavern—a job which paid him twice as much as his teaching salary.

The long range effects of this problem is grave. Attendance in teachers' colleges has fallen off heavily at a time when attendance in all other institutions of higher learning is zooming. This means that there will be fewer qualified teachers in the future. It is estimated that something like 350,000 teachers have completely abandoned the profession in favor of higher paying jobs in government and business. Throughout the country, school boards have been forced to give temporary certificates to teachers with substandard qualifications, because good teachers were not available, and so youngsters get a poorer grade of education. Lastly, it has been necessary to greatly increase the size of classes. Class rooms of 75 or more children are common in cities now—and educational experts say that 35 is the maximum number of pupils a teacher can handle with desirable results.

Practically everyone admits that the justice of the teachers' demand for better pay is unassailable—but the solution is not an easy one. Cities and counties have plenty of budget troubles of their own, and if they raise the pay of one group of employees, other groups will certainly demand raises too. States are helping out—but the states, like all other units of government, are hard put to make both ends meet. Many of them are raising taxes and adopting new taxes just to pay present running costs. Federal aid has been proposed—but it doesn't seem practical at a time when Congress is supposed to be cutting costs all along the line.

A partial solution has been found in cost-of-living grants to teachers. A number of states and cities have done this as an immediate emergency measure. But teachers' spokesmen point out that it is a very small part of the answer to the problem. It gives them no assurance of adequate future earnings. They want a guaranteed minimum wage—ranging from $2,000 to $2,500, depending upon the locality—with specific raises for educational attainments, responsibilities, tenure of service, etc.

The United States News says that unrest is bringing the union issue into the educational picture. In the past, both AFL and the CIO have tried to organize educators, but with small success. If teachers feel that they will continue to be subjected to economic injustice, they may be more receptive to the blandishments of labor organizers. And that would produce grave potentialities. Domination of teachers by any organization is certainly not in accord with our educational traditions.

What is true of the teachers is true to a greater or lesser extent of civil service employees, and non-elective officials in every branch of the government. It is true of people living on fixed incomes, who have no means of counteracting higher living costs through higher earnings. These people are caught in a tremendous squeeze, and there seems to be no adequate relief in sight. The industrial workers have made definite gains, while many white-collar workers have suffered a heavy loss. That fact summarizes a problem of growing importance to the whole country.

YOUR LIVING COSTS

The high cost of food—which recently touched a record level—still holds an important place in the headlines. Reports of consumer resistance have come from all parts of the country. Government officials have been considering possible remedial measures. And retailers, whose prosperity depends upon a large and stable turnover, are definitely concerned.

The public should understand the position of the retailer in a matter such as this. He is literally caught in the middle—between high wholesale prices on the one hand, and consumer demand for lower prices on the other. He is without control over wages, the prices paid farmers, taxes, and everything else that enters into the final selling cost of food. What he can do is to hold his own cost of operation to the limit, so that price increases may be as small and as few as possible. And that is exactly what nine out of ten retailers are doing.

A recent report of what happens to each dollar spent by the consumer in one of the country's principal food chains tells the story. On each dollar sale, less than one solitary cent remained with the store as net profit. All the rest went for overhead and purchases of one kind or another—for buying goods, for rent, for salaries, for taxes, etc. This system's operating costs are the lowest consistent with running an efficient, attractive store. It is obvious, in other words, that the retailer is not the reason for the high price of food.

Time will determine the future price trend. Your retailer, if he is typical, will give you the most possible for the least money—in food and other goods.

PLANNED STATE LEADS TO DESPOTISM

Writing in the March issue of "The Atlantic Monthly," Francis and Katharine Drake present one of the most thoughtful and revealing analysis of Britain's economic plight that has yet appeared in print. They go sympathetically and frankly into the enormous problems faced by the English people and the Labor government. And near the end they say this: "The Planned State is being put together in Britain by men of honest purpose and ideals. But Planned States have been put together before by well-intentioned men, only to be hijacked, prostituted, concluded in chaos and in a nation's shame. . . . Already in Britain it is becoming a condition of employment to belong to unions affiliated with the T. U. C. (Trade Union Congress). No approved union, no job. Already there have been attempts to limit the jurisdiction of the courts, to deny the individual full rights over his house and land, to deprive him of the rewards of initiative. Doing what one is told to do is not so many steps away from thinking what one is told to think."

One of the harsh lessons of history is that the super-state, regardless of what name it is given, tends always to despotism. It attains either ownership of or complete control over a nation's basic resources—coal, electric power, finance, the land. It dominates labor, by denying the right to men who do not join its labor organizations. It thus achieves power over every facet of a nation's life. And so the stage is set for dictatorship, and the death of all freedoms.

Well-intentioned men may mean that the Planned State shall respect the liberties of the people. But hell is paved with good intentions—and the pages of history are strewn with the accounts of once-free peoples who found to their sorrow that when they surrendered economic liberty to government, all other liberties eventually followed. The people of the United States should remember that.

A BETTER BUY

A news story in the Wall Street Journal tells of a large retail organization which employs 300 men to operate a "torture chamber" where merchandise is tested to find out "if it is as good as manufacturers crack it up to be."

According to the account, "The snap in a pair of 25 cent garters, the warmth of a winter overcoat, and the life span of a $400 hay drier all come under the watchful eyes of these critical experts, whose occupational disease is pessimism."

The purpose, of course, is to see that customers get a better buy for their money. And the effects of this are felt in stores, down to very small ones, which have no research organizations of their own. Standards are established—faults are discovered and virtues proved—and quality goes up all along the line.

Stores have been leaders in the testing of merchandise in all fields. Retailers generally are thinking in terms of better quality, better service and maximum return to the buyer for his dollar.

That is typical of America's magnificent distribution machine.

UNION TYRANNY

Cecil B. DeMille, who has been engaged in waging a courageous campaign against labor despotism, recently sent the following telegram to all members of Senate and House committees engaged in considering labor legislation: "In Moscow Secretary of State Marshall said, 'A society is not free if law-abiding citizens live in fear of being denied the right to work.' If this is America's foreign policy let us make it America's domestic policy by abolishing the closed shop."

In totalitarian countries, a man who dissents with the government in power is dealt with harshly—if he is lucky enough to escape execution or the concentration camp. Ruthless states rule by terror. In this country, if a man disagrees with the policy of the union representing the craft in which he is trained, he may be discharged from his job, with the employer impotent to help him—and he and his family can then starve in the streets, or turn to charity and government relief for a bare subsistence.

The closed shop is not necessary to protect the gains that labor has made in the past or may make in the future—all the power of national and state law stands with the worker in these matters. Abandonment of the closed shop principle is necessary if the worker is to be freed of tyranny which gives one man or a group of men, who have forced their way to iron-clad control of major unions, the power to decide who shall work—and who shall starve.

This is the heart of the labor problem. Other phases of it—such as secondary boycott, national bargaining abuse of the portal - to portal pay principle and denial of the right of management to speak its mind to workers—must be dealt with, but all of them are of lesser importance. So long as we have the closed shop, we will have union tyranny, and the individual worker will be helpless.

going revision. Tendency is to give a somewhat larger reduction at low income levels, and to gradually reduce the cut in the higher brackets.

Twenty thousand dollars worth of men's shirts were burned in a fire at Easton, Pa. Until then they probably weren't so hot.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER says:

"Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

We second the motion We'll do our part!

International Harvester has reduced prices to save users of its products $20,000,000 a year. The reductions apply to a selected list of various products made by the Company.

In making its announcement to the general public last week, International Harvester said:

"We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of goods people buy."

"The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry."

"Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks involved."

As International Dealers we will do our part. We will pass International Harvester's price reductions to our customers.

And now a word of gratitude to our friends who have patiently waited for the new machines they need. As most of our customers are aware, International Harvester has done everything possible—and some things that seemed impossible—to maintain and increase production.

The outlook is somewhat better. Soon we hope to supply equipment to all of those who have cooperated so faithfully with us.

Meanwhile, the same top-quality International Service and Parts that have kept equipment operating for our customers during the difficult years are available from us. We urge our friends to continue to use these facilities to obtain maximum operating economy.

International Harvester is doing its part with quality, increased production and reduced prices.

We will do our part in this territory

Disease Traced to Warmed-Up Coffee

Specialist Gives Formula for 'Fountain of Youth.'

BOSTON. — Dr. Oscar A. Strauss, veteran specialist in the diseases of the artery, has offered his own formula for a 'Fountain of Youth' to prolong human life.

Part of this formula was:
If you drink coffee, don't drink warmed-up coffee. Be sure it is fresh.

A private practitioner in Chicago, Dr. Strauss said the drinking of warmed-up coffee is one of the causes of artery disease—such as hardening of the arteries, hypertension, or high blood pressure—which he described as "probably the chief cause of the aging process in man."

He made his report at a session of the 113th annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He said that coffee or tea, when freshly made and properly prepared and not re-heated, can be carried away by the human body without harmful effects.

But, he warned, once the oil is separated in coffee, it will not unite again upon reheating.

This oily substance in coffee, he explained, is an irritant to the inner wall of the blood vessels and thereby is a contributing factor to disease of the arteries.

And as for tobacco, he said, "The effects of tobacco inhalation are well known. The heavier the tar content, the greater the amount of phenol and irritation absorbed by the blood stream. Nicotine, although toxic, is more a local irritant through constant use."

"The tobacco chewer does not suffer arterial irritation as does the smoker."

Dr. Strauss said that a lack of oxygen is another cause of artery ailment.

"A month spent in outdoor life, in an environment of rest and relaxation, has greater restorative value as a vacation than any form of medical treatment," he said.

Farm Income in 1946
Is Put at 21 Billions

WASHINGTON.—Cash farm income during the first 11 months of 1946 totaled $21,600,000,000, an increase of 14 per cent over the corresponding period last year, according to the agriculture department.

Department officials said the earnings made it virtually certain cash farm income will set a new record in 1946.

Receipts from livestock were up about 10 per cent over last year despite marketing slumps in June and September when producers were protesting OPA price ceilings. Crop cash returns were about 19 per cent higher than in 1945.

Much of the cash income increase was due to larger livestock marketings and higher prices during the last half of October. The increase in crop resulted mainly from hikes in prices of oilbearing crops after controls were junked.

262 Special Agents of Allies to Register in U. S.

WASHINGTON. — Department of justice said that 262 agents of Allied governments would be required to file new public registration statements of their activities in this country.

During the war they were exempt from public disclosure of their work. The government canceled this wartime procedure. It said that from now on all registration statements will be available for public inspection.

Britain tops the list of Allied governments with 22 agents who received exemptions. Czechoslovakia has 12, the Netherlands 11, France 10 and China 10. Russia has 2.

22.17 Per Cent of U. S. Costs
In Germany Went for Relief

BERLIN. — Public relief rolls, rising steadily in the American occupation zone of Germany, require 22.17 per cent of all governmental expenditures for the 1946-47 fiscal year. Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor, reported these figures.

The American zone, which has a population of 16,231,648 persons, had 1,130,638 on relief in November. This represented an increase of 52,653 from October.

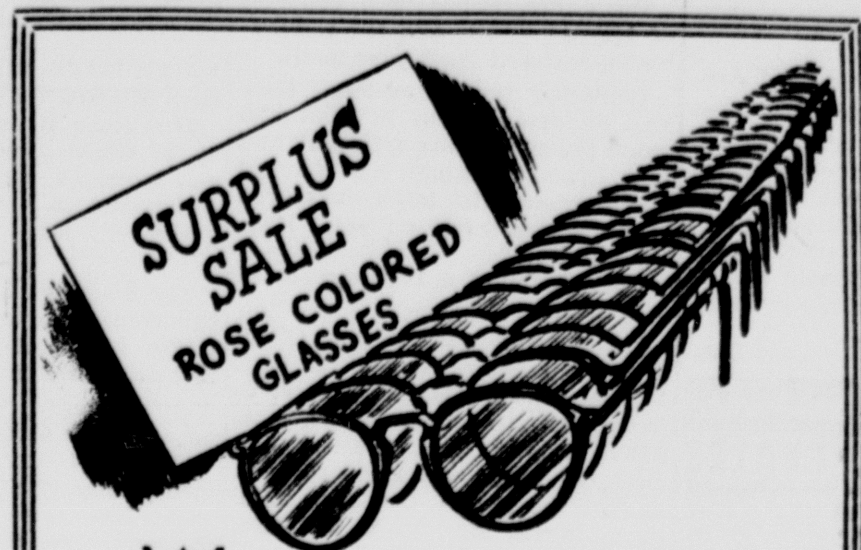

In the same period, relief expenditures mounted from $2,991,918 to $3,188,333. Public welfare budgets for the fiscal year were estimated at $139,600,000, Clay's report said. The figures also include funds for operating welfare institutions.

Farmer in Iowa Is Hopped Up,
He Can't Sell 730,000 Frogs

DES MOINES, IOWA.—An Iowa farmer with 730,000 frogs on hand, filed a $101,041 claim against the state because of a law which restricts their distribution.

The farmer, W. H. Potthast of Milford, said he has 550,000 3-year-old frogs and 180,000 2-year-olds. He said he had planned to sell them on the New Orleans frog market when he discovered the law prohibits their shipment out of the state.

Plastic piping for home heating plants will be available in about two years.

We really don't have any to sell, but there seems to be an over-supply of them on all sides. Many people think they see such a rosy future that they don't even bother to save. We know, though, that the time to prepare for lean years is in the years of plenty. Hope for the best, but prepare for the worst... save... save... save...

Troubles for the British aircraft industry are postponing the day when British planes will be able to compete with U. S. models. British air lines will have to use American equipment longer than they had expected. Postwar planes made in England have run into mechanical kinks. With one standard two-motored transport, it has been a question of icing. Another bigger model, planned for transatlantic service, has proved unstable in take-offs and hard to control in the air. As a result, more U. S. Planes are being ordered by British air lines. Orders from Australia and other Empire countries for British planes have been canceled in favor of American models. All this means another drain on Britain's scarce dollars.

A U. S. market for South African fruit now is being developed. Peaches, plums, nectarines and other fruits, packed in South Africa between December and May each year, are being shipped to the U. S. on six South African vessels equipped with special refrigeration facilities.

Elephants Paralyzed

By Mystery Ailment

LONDON.—Bertram Mills, who owns a circus, said that a mysterious ailment had paralyzed the trunks of his six elephants. They can't feed themselves or curl their trunks up and outward in the elephant salute when the circus band plays "God Save the King."

The ailment was first observed two months ago in Kaphol, an 18-year-old star performer. She showed some improvement after six radiotherapy treatments, but still could not eat without help.

Mills' five other elephants—Manjuli, Hunguli, Batho, Lechne and Jennie—subsequently suffered trunk paralysis. They also were given radiotherapy treatments and showed only slight improvement.

Puzzled circus veterinarians named the disease "fibrositis," and said they hadn't the slightest idea what caused it. They said the idea of radiotherapy treatments first occurred to Mills after it had helped his sciatica.

House Flies Given Formal

Execution; Seemed to Like It

DETROIT.—Seven common house flies were executed formally in Detroit and seemed to like it, at the start.

The flies—there were 10 of them but 3 got away—were flown in from Chicago, and spent the night in a downtown hotel. After a last breakfast of warm milk they were ready for the death chamber—a little paint-coated box.

The paint was impregnated with DDT and this was its official test. It worked. For nearly 30 minutes the flies frisked about, but at the end of an hour they were flat on their backs, feebly kicking their legs.

The new paint is designed primarily for creamery and dairy barn use.

Natural-Appearing Gloves

Made for Artificial Hands

WASHINGTON.—A seamless plastic glove that makes artificial hands look natural has been developed, Veterans' administration stated.

Establishment of clinics for the fitting or repair of plastic eyes, and later for fittings for plastic noses, ears and hands, also was announced.

Eight clinics are now in operation in Boston, New York, Atlanta, Cleveland, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Baltimore and Chicago.

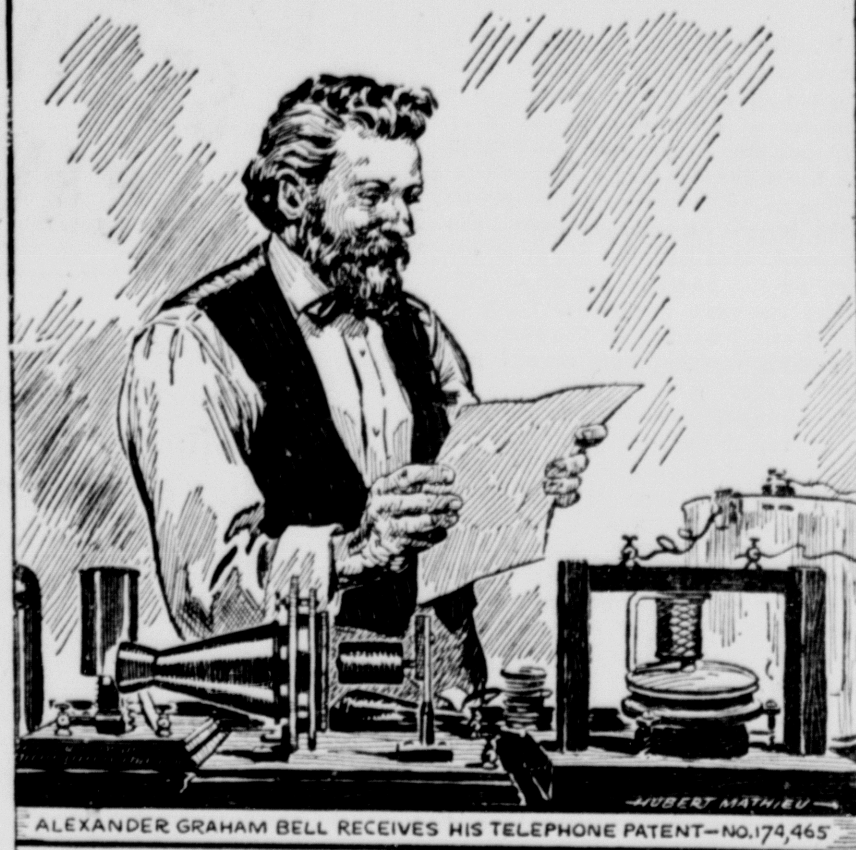

Similar clinics will be opened soon at Memphis, Dallas, Minneapolis, Denver and Portland, Ore., and at the army's Valley Forge hospital, Phoenixville, Pa., when it is transferred to Veterans' administration.

One way to trim the budget would be to trim off some of the trimmings.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

RIGHT of PATENT

WHEN OUR FIRST UNITED STATES CONGRESS MET, ONE OF ITS EARLY ACTS WAS TO ESTABLISH—ON APRIL 10, 1790—THE UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE... MAKING SURE THAT THOSE MEN OF TALENT, WHO WERE TO GIVE OUR DEMOCRACY MANY NEW AND USEFUL THINGS, WOULD BE PROTECTED AND REWARDED.

As productive years follow productive years, patent protection continues to encourage ingenuity and to safeguard the rights and rewards of enterprising individuals.

Ease Financing For New Homes

Remove Some Controls Over Housing Industry; Drop Priority Plan.

WASHINGTON. — Liberalized financing for builders of rental housing simultaneous with removal of a number of controls over the housing industry have been announced by the federal housing agency.

The monthly carrying charges on FHA insured mortgages have been reduced. This had the effect of extending the average period of maturity for such mortgages from 27 years and 7 months to 32 years and 7 months on the basis of a 4 per cent interest rate.

The reduction was made by lowering the 2 per cent initial minimum principal payment to 1 1/4 per cent, with subsequent principal payments reduced accordingly.

FHA also announced that it had broadened eligibility standards for this type of mortgage insurance, permitting loans for elevator and corridor type apartment houses among other things.

To Protect Builders.

The agency said too that it would provide a means for adjusting its insurance commitments to meet fluctuating construction costs and was studying means to protect builders against decreased earnings after the current housing shortage is relieved.

Revision of housing controls was announced earlier at a joint news conference by Federal Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon and National Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley.

The old cost ceiling of $10,000 on houses built for sale was removed. Also a requirement that plans and specifications be submitted to the federal housing administration for establishment of a ceiling price, followed by government inspection to insure adherence to the plans was abolished.

Priorities no longer will be issued to home builders. Previous priorities however will be honored, but builders who use the priorities already issued must adhere to the previous regulations that went with them, including the $10,000 ceiling cost and the $80 a month maximum rental.

These conditions will be attached to the granting of a house building permit under the new system.

The dwelling must be suitable and intended for year-round occupancy. The total floor area must not exceed 1,500 square feet, which officials said was sufficient for an ordinary three bedroom house.

Equipping more than one bathroom is prohibited.

$80 Average Rental.

Rental properties must be submitted to FHA for establishment of a rent ceiling based on cost. Instead of the former flat ceiling of $80 per month, the average for an entire project now is held at $80 per unit, plus $3 per room in service charges. Rental projects must be held 30 days for veterans.

Under the new program, non-veterans may obtain permits to build homes for their own occupancy and for construction under some other circumstances. Builders of dwellings for sale to veterans are required to hold them for veterans for 60 days after completion.

Builders may obtain permits to add rooms to house additional veterans or members of the applicant's family but the estimated construction cost may not exceed $1,500 for each person additionally housed.

In addition, a veteran is eligible to make alterations or repairs on a dwelling up to $10,000. Alterations and repairs of less than $400 may be made without a federal permit.

In addition to the new housing actions, the government also junked distribution controls over penicillin; mandatory priorities for installation of telephone service; limitations on the use of tinplate; a prohibition against importation of cane spirits, and wholesale and retail inventory controls on a number of items of clothing.

Solves His Housing Problem; Must Get Goat, He Gets It

RIDGEWOOD, N. J.—If Harry Schefers and his family appear perplexed in solving their housing problem—blame it on a goat.

Schefers, a war veteran seeking an apartment, was promised one by his landlady on condition that he owned a goat. The animal, she explained, was needed by her son, a college student, for experiments in bacteriology.

Schefers obtained the animal. Now, however, the board of health threatens to intervene on the grounds that keeping the goat may be a violation of a city ordinance.

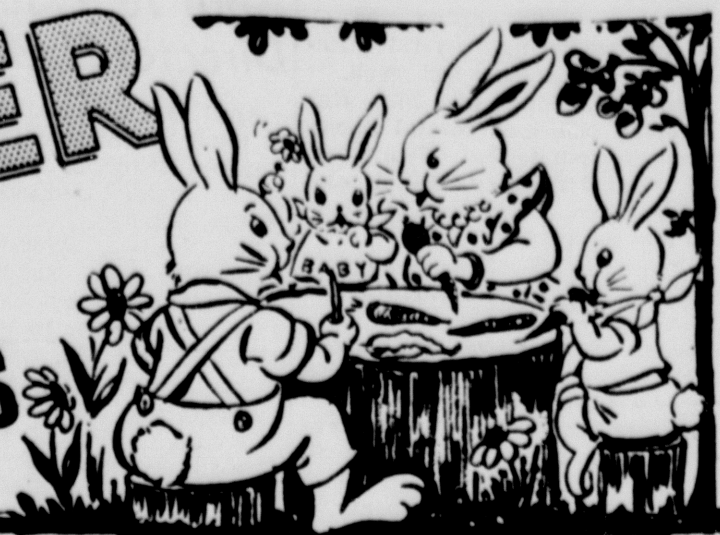

Bulldozers Destroy 600

Apple Trees by Mistake

MARTINSBURG, W. VA. — Bulldozers went to work in the wrong orchard and ruined 600 bearing apple trees. American Fruit Growers orchard had engaged a contractor to clear 15 acres of old trees preparatory to replanting. The contractor's two bulldozers got into the adjoining Smith orchard by mistake and cleared 15 acres of good, live Delicious and Golden Delicious apple trees.

That Iceland delegation to England to buy coal probably is being treated for shock.

Up a "green hill far away" the feet of pilgrims have been journeying for nineteen hundred years; all bearers of crosses have found themselves in the company of the Divine Burden-Bearer. He could not save himself, he could not bear his cross alone; nor have the good and the great ever been able to save themselves, for "he who saves his life loses it". It is a strange paradox, but everlastingly true: men are strong not to bear their own burdens, but to carry a Cross for others; they will find God at their side to sustain them when they fall beneath their own burdens. Men were never meant to carry their burdens alone; that is what God is for. Likewise God was never meant to bear the world's load alone; that is what man is for. So it is a wonderful partnership, this company of God and his human sons. JESUS TRANSFIGURED THE CROSS FOREVER, TURNING A SYMBOL OF SUFFERING INTO A SYMBOL OF TRIUMPHANT LIFE. Every man who wears a Cross on his heart will find good company; he will walk with the Son of Man, who forever walks with God. How terrible is any Cross that a weary man must carry alone, the more terrible because he does not need to carry it alone! The Christian Gospel tells of a Man who died for us and of a God who was revealed in the love of Calvary as nowhere else in the world. Our God lives with us and for us, and in us, if we allow Him.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. State-men today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

Intra-Squad Tiff Staged by Spring Pigsaw Prospects

Spring football training came into its own Saturday afternoon when Coach Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnigan sent 55 players through six ten-minute quarters of rough, leather-smacking football practice. Semi-game conditions prevailed as the two mentors viewed returning lettermen in action as well as several outstanding high school prospects who visited the campus during the week for an inlook into collegiate ball.

Mustering enough strength and strategy to shove across six touchdowns, the white-shirted elevens out-manuevered maroon squads in a contest full of complete team substituting. The best players were evenly divided on the squads and no extra points were attempted.

Most promising combination on the field had Omer Jordan and Kenneth Jones at ends, Charles Hester and Marion Goodson at tackles, Pete Brumley and Duane Byars at guards and Buck Garrett at center. Boyd Williams, LeRoy Reeves, Lloyd Johnson and Burl Pruitt made up the backfield group in this eleven. This aggregation scored on every squad it faced and yielded not a tally to the opposition.

Pruitt scored the first touchdown by romping 20 yards after a 70-yard drive. Speedy Lloyd Johnson clipped off two pay-dirt runs of 15 and 25 yards.

Ernest Kendrick, who replaced Reeves at quarterback every other quarter, passed for two tallies and turned in several nice yardage gains.

Boyd Williams, Dawson Little and Zent marked up scores for the Maroons. Zent racing 60 yards, Little 20, and Williams 25.

Hard drilling sessions are planned for every afternoon this week with heavy semi-game tilts planned for Wednesday and Friday.

"Gee, it's good to be back in civilian clothes again," said the moth in the ex-soldier's closet.

Coal production in Spain is climbing slowly to a point where that country no longer will have to buy fuel abroad. Spain's coal reserves can take care of her needs for many years. When war halted British shipments of coal, Spanish mines started increasing their output. Despite damage to equipment during the Civil War and a shortage of miners, coal production has doubled in six years. Most of Spain's coal is bituminous and is found in the North near the bay of Biscay.

Record Supply Of Meat in 1947

150 Pounds for Each Person In U. S. Is Predicted by Commerce Department.

WASHINGTON. — Enough meat may be produced in 1947 to provide each person in the United States with 150 pounds—more than at any time in the last 35 years—according to the department of commerce. This finding is contained in a broad analysis of industrial trends and trade prospects for the year.

Highlights of the analysis, which the department said is "subject to the unsettled conditions of reconversion prevailing in all phases of industry and business," include these findings:

Other Findings.
FOOD SUPPLIES—There should be more butter, fish, fresh fruits and canned fruits and vegetables and juices than last year, and "prospects are that 1947 food supplies will continue at the record 1946 levels."

No changes will be observable in supplies of chicken, turkey, condensed and evaporated milk, cheese, ice cream and dried skim milk. Eggs, fresh vegetables and total milk in all forms may be somewhat more plentiful than in 1946.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES — Blended whisky should be "ample" and brandies, rum and gin, both domestic and imported, "easily obtainable." Scotch will remain scarce.

TOBACCO — Production probably will continue near record levels, and cigarette sales may top 1946 figures "despite some increase in prices."

Demand for furniture is expected to exceed supply during 1947 although the industry expects to reach peak production.

General Products.
Electrical appliances will continue to have a "seller" market into the middle of 1947.

Output and trade in hardware is expected to surpass all previous records, but plumbing and heating items seem likely to continue in short supply.

Printing and publishing industry will be hampered by paper and equipment shortages, despite improvement in output. Advertising revenue "should continue to increase as the sellers' market changes to a buyers' market and manufacturers use all the selling tools they can."

Radio production will reach new high in 1947. At least 250,000 television sets should be on the market.

About 500 million pairs of leather shoes are to be made and consumers are expected to buy about four pairs to the person.

Movies may reach into thousands of small communities as a result of development of "16-mm theaters built in communities where no regular theaters exist."

New Germ Killer Is Proved Superior to Penicillin

CHICAGO. — An extract of beef brains and other organs that has proved to be superior to penicillin in some respects has been used on mice inoculated with certain staphylococcus germs, according to the current issue of the Journal of Bacteriology.

The paper, by Leo G. Mutini and Sister Eva Maria Lynch of the Institutum Divi Thomae of Cincinnati, indicated that the brain extract held mortality to .9 per cent, as against 75 per cent for untreated mice, when used as a preventive. As a cure, it appeared to hold fatalities to zero, while rats treated with penicillin suffered 10 to 80 per cent mortality, according to size of dosage. Healing in the brain tissue group was faster than among the penicillin treated mice.

The new extract is effective either by subcutaneous injection or by mouth, the experimenters report. They now are seeking to determine whether staphylococcus germs will develop resistance to the new medicine.

Missionary's Aid Costs This Man Wallet and $18

LAWRENCE, MASS. — As 74-year-old Israel Ouellette of Methuen walked along the street here, an automobile drew alongside him and a sweet-faced, white-haired woman stepped out.

She identified herself as a missionary and said if he weren't feeling well, perhaps she could help with a blessing.

"Could feel better — a little stiff and lame today," Ouellette acknowledged. Whereupon his benefactress placed her hands on him and performed her little rite which, he later discovered, included lifting his wallet with $18.

Famous Song Writer Put on Three Years' Probation

REDWOOD CITY, CALIF. — Jimmy Campbell, 48-year-old British song writer, was on three years' probation on a charge of passing $90 worth of bad checks at a San Mateo, Calif., hotel.

Campbell, composer of "Show Me the Way to Go Home," "Goodnight, Sweetheart," "Isle of Capri" and other Tin Pan alley best sellers, still faces other charges involving checks totaling $800 in two cities.

One way to trim the budget would be to trim off some of the trimmings.

The Champ From Waterloo

By RAYMOND T. DAVIS
WNU Features.

ELMER ACKLEBERRY'S long legs made crunching sounds on the white gravel path leading to the pretentious Hendrick residence.

He reached the door and lifted one hand to knock, but it remained suspended in midair. The same doubts assailed him again. What if Old Man Hendrick didn't give him the order?

Elmer sighed and knocked, timidly, hoping nobody was home. But the door was swung open after a moment by a pompous fat man with ruddy cheeks and a broad smile. "You're Elmer?" he said. "The Acme Company's pool shark?"

Elmer hesitated, finally replied, "I'm Elmer—the insurance salesman."

Mr. Hendrick grasped Elmer's skinny arm and hauled him into the house. "Your boss didn't tell you, I guess. He has been phoning for weeks to sell me insurance," he told Elmer as he led him through one big room and down a thickly carpeted hall. "Then he discovered I'm an unbeatable pool player. Says he's got a new salesman who will pin my ears back. That's you, eh?"

Elmer scowled. So that was it! That was why the Chicago office had summoned him all the way from Waterloo. Not because of his sales record. It was his pool-playing they wanted. Elmer had the urge to run straight back to his room and pack up.

"I told your boss I'd give you the order if you can lick me," Hendrick

He already could picture Mary Ann's forgiveness.

rumbled on happily. "Nothing like a good contest, is there?"

They turned into a large room, brightly lighted, with two shiny new tables in its center.

Hendrick sprinkled some talc on his palms and briskly rubbed them together. "Hope you are a good loser, Elmer," he said cheerfully.

Elmer hurriedly peeled off his coat and rolled up his sleeves. "I'm a better winner," he said curtly, and selected a cue-stick from the nearest rack.

"How about a little wager, too," urged Hendrick, "just to make it interesting. Say a dollar a game."

Elmer thoughtfully fingered the four dollars in his pants pocket and shook his head. "Ten cents is enough for me."

"A dime, then, but doubled each game. Okay?" Elmer absently agreed with a nod and the play was started.

The game was over in exactly four minutes. Hendrick was really good, Elmer reflected. He rarely missed a shot that could be made; he knew how to freeze his opponent and succeeded consistently.

But the champ of Waterloo was better. Elmer found himself able to do tricks that were impossible on the ancient tables back home.

"You were just lucky, Elmer," Hendrick declared goodnaturedly. "Now I'll bear down hard on you." He seemed almost pleased that he had been beat and that competition was tough.

The next games were fast and close, but Elmer won each, sometimes by only a miraculous shot, while Hendrick's big smile faded and Elmer's expanded.

It was fourteen games later, almost three hours, when at last they ended the tournament. Both men were exhausted, but Elmer had won every single game.

Hendrick wiped his perspiring brow with a towel and then mixed drinks. Later, he brought out a pad of paper and his check book. "You win the insurance order—just mail the policy to me," he directed as he wrote. "Best commission you'll ever make, I bet."

"The last, too," Elmer murmured, recalling again how the company had tricked him into leaving home—and Mary Ann. "I'm going back home. Maybe the commission will be enough for a down payment on a little farm." He could already picture Mary Ann's forgiveness at the news.

Hendrick folded a check and there was a strange soberness in his expression as he eyed Elmer and handed it over. "My check—don't forget the little wager we made, Elmer."

Elmer lifted a hand and backed away. "The commission is plenty, Mr. Hendrick," he protested. "Let's forget the wager."

Hendrick forced the folded check into his hand. "Use it for your farm," he insisted. "Remember—we played a dime a game, doubled each game. Figure it out. It amounts to $1,638.40."

The recent cold wave accomplished some good. Several heated arguments were frozen stiff.

SPRING FEVER

Beware, the time of spring fever has come!

This disease is very contagious. One does not have to touch, drink after, or even be in the same room with one of the poor creatures who has caught it. Just looking at the motionless one idly staring out of the window, makes one suddenly drowsy.

Some of its symptoms are: getting up the third time Mother calls, waiting till tomorrow to do the assignment one should do today, taking 30 minutes to walk five blocks, and dreaming in the daytime.

Would a quick diagnosis by the doctor tell him, you were one of the unlucky victims? Are you making the most of this spring weather?

If you find that you have this malady, you might try these remedies for relief.

One of the old fashioned molasses and sulphur remedy (which incidentally tastes horrible). The other (and don't try it if you don't have self control) is: Take a deep breath, get busy on some lesson and then concentrate on it. Do this every twenty minutes or whenever the drowsiness comes on.

After trying these, we hope the spring fever has left you L. B.

Alice Prichard and Frank Hollabaugh, ex-students of CHS, were married Friday morning in Clovis, New Mexico.

Say, I got a letter from my cousin Elmo and he told me more news. Instead of my trying to tell you all about it, I'll just let you read it.

Dear Cal:

Since I hadn't had time to write you a letter in a long time, I have lots of news to tell you.

I went to a party last Wednesday night and I saw some people you know such as: James Bible and Martha Wilson, "Rusty" Davis and Billie Bonds, Guy Brant and Lavearne Henders and Lee Bailey and Valeta Haines. Of course there were many more, but that is all of the love birds.

I heard Mary Sue Foster talking and she really seems to think there is a wonderful boy down at W. T. High with initials of E. R. I wonder who that could be? If you find out let me know!

I happened to drop by Larry Roush's house Friday night and it seemed as though they were really having a party. What about that? Cal, would you please tell Richmond Payne that Mary Ann Sloan is simply crazy over him?

If you find out which senior girl it is that is still carrying a torch for Charles Wright, will you please let me know?

As I was walking down the street Thursday night, I saw Mary Ann Parker and Ridings Sloan, say where does Sue fit in?

When I went to school last Friday, I passed by the library and when I did I noticed that Clifford Burtz was constantly winking at Ava Dooley.

I decided I would go to the wrestling matches Thursday night and as I walked in the door, I bumped into Dick Barrett, Geneva McDougal, Meade Michel, and Janey Forrester. My my.

You know, everywhere I went this week-end I saw Bobby Ford and Richard Walters. I saw them Friday night and then I saw them again Saturday night. Quite a couple, isn't it?

Friday night I went to the Junior play at W. T. High and I saw some of your friends. Do you remember Max Bellah and Donna Erwin, Marvin Fite and Billie Marie Money?

Cal, as a favor for an old friend, will you tell that Gregg girl that a certain boy with the initials A. E. R. would like to go with her?

Guess what? Apple pie seems to be the latest fashion in the 6th period Home Ec. Lab., that is, until a certain obstacle appeared! Now I wonder what that was?

As I journeyed to the show Saturday night, I saw Sue and Faye Dickerson with Bruce Winn and Joe Dean Abbott. This is becoming a definite foursome! Where do Joanna Haines and Albert Craig fit in?

When I passed by 510 12th street, Sunday I heard a lot of laughter. Yes, Mable Ann, Jerre, Sue Ann, Don, Carol Wray, and Suzanne seemed to be tearing the place up. I wonder why?

It seems as though this is all the news for now. I'll be writing again soon.

Your loving cousin,

Elmo.

In the sophomore-seventh game, which was played on Wednesday, the sophomores won with the score 17-5. Betty Erwin made most of the points for the sophomores while Patty Ford was the seventh's outstanding player.

On Thursday, Joyce Carter led the victorious juniors over the freshmen, 8-4. Friday, blanking the eighth, the juniors made 6 goals making the total of 12 points.

On Monday, the winning team was the sophomore defeating the freshman 15-4 with Mary Elizabeth Jennings as high point for the freshman and Wanda Edwards for the sophomores.

Grade Notes

Students of Mrs. T. W. Collins' first grade dyed Easter eggs in their room Tuesday. They will have a party Thursday, after which they will hunt the Easter eggs. Pop will be served for refreshments.

Mrs. Joe Black's room dyed eggs Tuesday in their room and plan for Easter festivities, also, on Thursday.

Charles Stone withdrew from Mrs. Stella Murrell's second grade last week, when he moved to Perryton, Texas; but a new pupil, Darwood Furrow, from Riverroad school in Amarillo took his place.

Mrs. Roscoe Davis' second grade is making a pictorial weather chart for the month of March. Each day, a child draws a picture of a sun, clouds, snowflakes, or an umbrella to represent the daily forecast, and the chart is hung in the front of the room.

Mrs. A. K. Goodman received a beautiful bouquet for her room. She wants to thank the person who brought it.

Johnette Weeks, Jeannie Thomas, and Anna Marie Barker were ill last week because of chicken pox. Gerald Matthews withdrew from Mrs. Goodman's third grade to move to East Texas.

Mrs. W. E. Miller, David's mother, visited Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade last week.

Darline Furrow entered Mrs. Cousins' room last Monday. He came from Riverroad school in Amarillo.

They are finishing a unit on "The Story of Sugar Beets." C. G. Bond, LaNelle Gum, and Helen Diller are back in school after a week's illness.

Juniors' Frolic Is Travel Party

Juniors centered their recreation around a progressive party given by the roommothers last Wednesday night.

Going to the W. L. Aventura home first, they had a frolic on the lawn. After being served cherries the group traveled on to the Fred Standley residence to play progressive bingo. Martha Wilson won a prize, a fifty-cent piece, for the girls and Wayne Davis won for the boys. After playing the game the students went to the Standley's back yard for a Weiner roast.

At the Alfred Bellah home, the travelers participated in group singing and "winkum," followed by refreshments of punch and cookies.

Mrs. Bellah, Mrs. Aventura, Mrs. Standley, and Mrs. J. H. Barrett and Mrs. A. K. Knott, sponsor, helped direct the party.

Sandies Out-volley Eaglette Teams

In short playing time, the Amarillo Sandies A and B teams both defeated the Eaglettes in two straight games, here, Friday night, March 28.

Starting off, the B string lost 15-5, then put up a more powerful battle and went down 14-16. Janey Forrester scored six times with Joanna Haines and Mary Sue Foster tying with four.

Joan Morton and Martha Jean Aventura scored five times each but the final score results were 12-15 and 7-15 in the first string game. Brown and Westfall led Amarillo in scoring.

Saturday, April 5, the Eaglettes will play for the District title. Dimmitt, Priona, Tullia, Dumas, and Canyon are entered and will draw at 9:00 o'clock Saturday to see who meets who. The Eaglettes snatched the title last year and are favored to win the honor again this year. Of the above teams, the Eaglettes have only played Dimmitt and had an easy victory over them.

Anita Davis, a former graduate of Canyon High, and assistant editor of the 1943 edition of the Eagle's Tale, was a CHS visitor last Monday. She is home for the Easter holidays from Indiana University where she is a senior. Falling in line with the staff, she assisted her brother, Bill, in working on this week's paper.

Ellen Sanders, a former editor of the Eagle's Tale of '45 and the first editor of "Soaring Wings," was seen in the halls last Tuesday paying her Alma Mater a business call.

Al Rushing Myers were out of Mrs. Tom Brasher's fourth grade last week due to illness.

Jean Stone, a pupil of Mrs. Mitchell Jones' fifth grade, moved to Perryton, Texas.

Johnny Faye Bonds and Norman Tuck celebrated their eleventh birthday this week.

Mrs. Verl Iverson's sixth grade is studying a unit on the Middle Atlantic States. They invited Supt. E. A. Wooten over to give them a talk about the states he had visited. "We surely did enjoy his talk," states Mrs. Iverson and the students.

IMPORTANT

By secret ballot of all the basketball girls, Dorothy Butler has been elected captain of the 46-47 Eaglette team.

This forward took second scoring honors with 123 tallies and only 19 fouls called against her. She is a sophomore and also plays on the volleyball team.

Martha Jean and Juanita Aventura were other nominees.

Assemblies Offer Helpful Lessons

In a called assembly the last period Monday, the student body saw a movie entitled "Clear Water." This technicolor picture illustrated clearly the destructive results of sewage disposal and what can be done to prevent further ravages of our national resources. Some of the beauty spots of the nation were pictured among the scenes.

Preceding the show Superintendent Wooten made several announcements, the most important being that the habit of giving a holiday on April Fool's Day is to be discontinued.

"New Ways of Farming," which especially stressed improved machinery and rotation of crops to prevent soil erosion, was shown to the students last Tuesday.

Those who were interested in tennis saw the movie "Fundamentals of Tennis" last Wednesday.

Biology class member saw the picture "The Frog" the second period Monday.

Orchids—to Miss Carolyn Newsom of West Texas State College who made arrangements for transportation of representatives form the Canyon High School FHA club to Chillicothe Saturday and who is over-seeing our home-making classes this week. For services above and beyond the line of duty, may we extend a sincere Thank You!

Miss Velta Speer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Speer, was married this morning at ten o'clock to Mr. James V. Reeves. The wedding took place in Alpine, Texas, where Dr. Speer, formerly superintendent of Canyon High School, is head of the Bureau of Public Service. Velta graduated from Canyon High in 1945.

Standley Serves State Delegates

Miss Carolyn Newsom Is Sponsor of Homemakers

Serving as Area I vice-president of the Future Homemakers of America for 1947-48 is Donna Erwin, who was elected to this office at the spring council meeting at Chillicothe High School, Saturday, March 20.

The council meeting began at 10 o'clock Saturday morning with 180 club members and sponsors present from various schools in Area I, which includes approximately ninety surrounding towns.

Girls Attend

Girls attending were members of this year's executive council, voting delegates, nominees for area offices, state delegates, and club sponsors from chapters affiliated with the area and national organizations.

The morning session was devoted to a business meeting after which girls from the Chillicothe chapter presented a program consisting of several musical numbers including a piano solo by Carole Christian and an accordion solo by Pat Phillips.

Members Give Reports

After lunch, members gave brief reports on the activities of their clubs, and voting delegates introduced their candidates for officers and made campaign speeches. The group then voted by secret ballot. The committee announced election returns at the close of the afternoon session. Out of a group of eight candidates, Donna Erwin was elected as vice-president for the coming year.

Donna, a freshman and first year homemaking student, was secretary of her class in the seventh grade, Carnival Queen, and treasurer of the eighth grade last year. She has been a member of the band one and one-half years, and is a member of the saxophone trio, the A Capella Choir, the Spanish club and treasurer of the local FHA chapter.

Standley, Runner-Up

Frances Standley, CHS candidate for state delegate, was runner-up, being defeated by only two votes. She will serve as alternate for the delegate to the state meeting in Austin. Frances is vice-president of the Spanish club, a member of Junior play cast, and historian of the local FHA chapter.

Other students from Canyon High School attending the meeting were Sue Ann Colwell, area reporter for 1946-47, and Gerry Small, voting delegate campaign manager. Accompanying the girls was Miss Carolyn Newsom, teacher trainer from the West Texas State College Home Economics department.

Mrs. T. E. Beard was absent from school last Monday. She was called to South Texas to visit sick relatives. Other teachers taught her classes during their off periods.

Mrs. O. M. McBroom filled the position of Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore, who was absent Wednesday due to illness.

Bufs To Meet Gold Sox at Buffalo Stadium

West Texas State's 1947 baseball season, the first in a number of years, gets underway here Thursday afternoon when they battle the Amarillo Gold Sox of the West Texas-New Mexico league. Game time has been set for 3 o'clock on the Buffalo Field diamond and admission will be 50 cents.

Amarillo opened pre-season play Sunday by dropping a 11-5 encounter to the Borger Gassers at Gold Sox park. This game will be the initial test for the Buffalo club and it will be a chance to iron out weaknesses.

Practice for the local nine has been underway for about two weeks but much progress has been made and several players are turning in praise - gathering performances. Chief among the outstanding base-batters is Metz LaFollette, towering McKinney pitcher, who has developed a lightning-fast ball with plenty of control. Metz pitched last summer with the renegade team which performed under the West Texas State banner.

"We are trying to create more interest in baseball here," asserted LaFollette, "and we would appreciate the support and enthusiasm of the students. We would appreciate a big turn-out for the Gold Sox game."

Candidates for positions are: Glynn Braden, 1st base; Boyce Box, center field; Ledru Jacobs, left field; Metz LaFollette, pitcher; Velton Sogree, 3rd base; Monk Ford, 2nd Bill Henry, right field; Weldon Trice, shortstop; Milton Deason, pitcher; Wayne Funston, pitcher; and Sid Levy, 3rd base.

Fred, Julius and George Vorwald have returned to their home in Bloomington, Wisc., after being called here because of the death of their father, Frank F. Vorwald. Also here for the funeral were Mr. Vorwald's brother and sister, Harry Vorwald and Mrs. Otto Kerper of New Vienna, Iowa.

Orville Donnell of Amarillo was a business visitor in Canyon Friday. A former resident of this city, Mr. Donnell is now engaged in the real estate business.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Long and little daughter, Royce Lynne, were guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Long. They live at Gage, Okla.

Miss Anita Davis came home by plane to spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Davis. Anita is a student in the University of Indiana, Bloomington.

Mr. and Mrs. Crisler Crain have returned from Childress where they were called last week because of the illness and death of Mr. Crain's grandmother.

Even the full swing of stepped up peacetime production can't quite meet the demand for Surge Milk.

Dairy families need a machine that will do more of their work and save more of their time—they need Surge Milking.

The simple fact is that the Surge does so automatically what other machines have to be helped to do.

The Surge does do more of your work and save more of your time.

That's why you can afford to wait just a little longer and make sure you get a Surge.

Industrial Defense For Future Urged

Nation's Vulnerability Brings
Plea for Action.

CHICAGO. — Total defense calls for total efforts on the part of the nation and American military authorities should devise a comprehensive program now to avert a future catastrophe. Robert Wood Johnson declares in the magazine Army Ordnance. A retired brigadier general, Johnson served in army ordnance during World War II and also as vice chairman of war production board.

Aided by an expert military commission to furnish counsel, American industry should be entrusted with the task of protecting its production facilities through new construction or design, Johnson said. After formulation of a program, the help of labor should be enlisted in developing the projects.

Citing Gen. Carl Spaatz's recent statement that development of arctic routes in aviation have brought the threat of large-scale air bombardment to such inland cities as Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis, Johnson demanded that military authorities reveal the type of industrial plants and layout best calculated to withstand the shock of all-out air warfare.

Referring to the lessons taught in World War II, Johnson asked: Should new plants be dispersed, and if so, where?

Which of these plants should go underground and where? To what extent and by what means should the armed services contribute to the obviously increased costs of such installation? Where is the authority to be centered?

Should we take advantage of land formations, such as small hills and valleys, which may or may not defend plants properly located against other than direct hits?

Again citing Spaatz's assertion that the next war may find the enemy seeking to knock out America's great industrial plant in the first days of war, Johnson urged that military leaders and industrialists meet immediately to lay the groundwork for comprehensive defense. He deplored previous unpreparedness, resulting in all-out production regardless of cost to meet pressing dangers.

Johnson pointed to the example set by other nations vulnerable to air warfare in working for industrial defense. Sweden and China have constructed underground plants and Germany installed subterranean facilities that escaped extensive damage. In Sweden the underground factories were built at a cost only 15 per cent higher than for surface structures, Johnson said.

Time Lost in Strikes

In '46 Breaks Records

WASHINGTON. — Time lost by strikes in the first 11 months of 1946 topped all records, including the strife-torn postwar year of 1919, the bureau of labor statistics reported.

A total of 107,475,000 man days (a day's work for one man) were lost by work stoppages between January and November — three and a half times the strike idleness in the same period of 1945 and nearly 14 times that of the first 11 months of the war year, 1944.

United States Army, Navy Join in Battle Against Vice

WASHINGTON. — The army and navy have joined in an anti-vice drive to combat prostitution, venereal disease and other "conditions inimical to the morals and welfare of service personnel." War Secretary Patterson and Navy Secretary Forrestal signed an order setting up the central joint army-navy disciplinary control board. Joint army-navy disciplinary boards are being set up in every army area and navy district.

The local army-navy disciplinary boards will inform themselves on conditions in their areas "relating to prostitution, venereal disease, liquor violations, disorders and other undesirable conditions." The boards will recommend suitable action to the naval district or army area commanders.

Cape Cod Tower Honors Jenny Lind, Famous Swedish Diva

TRURO, MASS. — A Cape Cod landmark is the Jenny Lind tower. In 1850, the famous Swedish singer gave two concerts in Boston's depot hall. The hall was in Fitchburg terminal, and when that railroad station was razed in 1927, one of its four stone towers was brought here and erected as a lasting memorial to Jenny Lind.

Monty Will Visit Moscow At Stalin's Invitation

LONDON. — Field Marshal Montgomery, chief of the imperial general staff, will visit Moscow early this year, the war office said, in response to an invitation Prime Minister Stalin extended during the Potsdam conference in 1945. Montgomery accepted because he was eager to acquaint himself with the military life of the Soviet army, the announcement said.

Statistics say there will be more sugar this year for you and me—and we hope this isn't soft soap.

A cynic says, "Life isn't fair to us men. When we are born, our mothers get the compliments and the flowers. When we are married, our brides get the presents and the publicity. And when we die, our widows get the life insurance and the winners in Florida."

If only the other industries could have reconverted as promptly as the fireworks factories did!

Mark Twain once worked on a newspaper in a Nevada mining town and the readers ranked him, as a humorist, below Dan de Quille who today is remembered only because he once worked on the same paper with Mark Twain.

And Abraham Lincoln was once defeated for the legislature—but nobody knows the name of the man who beat Lincoln.

The author of the following lines, entitled "Liquor and Longevity," is unknown but it is strongly suspected that he is not a member of the Anti-Saloon League:

The horse and mule live 20 years
And know nothing of wines and beers.

The goat and sheep at 20 die

And never taste of Scotch and rye.

The cow drinks water by the ton

And at 18 is almost done.

The dog at 15 cashes in

Without the aid of rum and gin.

The cat in milk and water soaks

And then at 12 short years it croaks.

The modest, sober, bone-dry hen

Lays eggs for nogs, then dies at 10.

All animals are strictly dry

They sinless live and swiftly die.

But sinful, ginful, rum-soaked men

Survive for three score and ten.

And some of us, though mighty few

Stay pickled 'til we're 92.

Contractors Predict Rapid Completion Of Museum Wing

With completion of the new wing in time for the annual meeting of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, Thursday, May 8, as their goal, college contractors disclose that the entire construction crew will be transferred to the museum building as soon as the cafeteria is finished.

Only factor holding up immediate conclusion of the museum project is lack of labor. Except for material for the stairs, all building supplies have been secured.

"Considerably better than that for last year is the attendance record to date," says Boone McClure, assistant curator. "The museum registration books shows a total of 8000 visitors, including 30 school groups."

From New Guinea comes a collection of native wood carvings recently given the museum by Jimmie Richmond. Included among the 60 items is a wooden club containing a flint-like stone in the head—a weapon that has brought several inquiries from the Smithsonian Institute.

Dr. Pleas Harper has donated a Peruvian blow gun with poison darts.

Through Millard Word and his son Bob, a sophomore in West Texas, the museum has obtained two Longhorn steers which will be slaughtered by Pinkney Packing Company and mounted by Zimmerman of Amarillo.

A new pencil industry for the Netherlands is to begin production in June. The Dutch plant will use English graphite. By turning out 45,000,000 pencils a year, the factory will be able to satisfy the needs of all the pencil users in Holland.

Research among people in Miami County, Ohio, discloses that country folks are crazier than city folks. Maybe so, but their names don't appear in police records as often.
